

I would like to voice my support of K-LOVE for the following reasons: I listen to this station more than any other radio station as do other people I know. They do a better job of providing contemporary Christian music than any other station I've heard. The music is "positive and encouraging" and is a good option, especially for young people who might otherwise listen to the kind of music that influences them in a negative way.